DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 1. Claims 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- (a) In claim 14 (and claims 15-16 by dependency), the scope of "MFR" cannot be determined because the claim does not state the test conditions.
- (b) In claims 14 and 15 (and claim 16 by dependency), the phrase "propylene sequences" is indefinite because the claim does not indicate the monomer length for determining a "sequence".

Applicants' arguments filed 10/21/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants state that the sequence length is not limited to any particular value. If this is true, then the value must be taken as a sequence length of two, because patent claims under examination must be given their broadest reasonable scope consistent with the specification. However, if the sequence length is two, then specifying any minimum percentage of propylene sequence orientations as isotactic or syndiotactic is essentially meaningless. Specifically, an adjacent pair of propylene monomers has two possible orientations, racemic (resulting in a syndiotactic segment) or meso (resulting in an isotactic segment). However, if the sequence length is two, then every propylene diad will be either isotactic or syndiotactic, and the limitation requiring "at least 40% of the propylene sequences are in isotactic or syndiotactic orientations" has no meaning because this value must always be essentially 100%. It appears that applicants intend for the limitation directed to the percentage of isotactic or syndiotactic orientations to have some meaning; however, as currently drafted in the claims, that meaning cannot be determined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. Claims 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakagawa et al. (EP 870 794) for the reasons set forth in item 7 of the Office action mailed 6/24/2005.

Applicants' arguments filed 10/21/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The new limitation directed to MFR does not preclude the cited reference example because the claim does not state how the measurement was made, and therefore any melt flow rate test conditions may be used. In the example, some combination of load and temperature will inherently result in a melt flow rate of greater than 250 dg/min.

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1713

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
